#134: The Manuscript Society Auction: 2000+ historic dealer catalogs

Auction Opens: Fri, Feb 25 12:01am ET

Auction Closes: Thu, Mar 3 9:00pm ET

Lot Title

- 0001 Lot 1. Argosy Book Stores, Inc. 3 items. Catalogs 450, 453 and 476; undated. Titled "Autographs: Historical and Literary." Founded in 1925, Argosy Book Store is located in midtown Manhattan and has a large warehouse in Brooklyn. It was a founding member of ABAA. Catalog 450 includes several interesting items including one signed by Abraham Lincoln on April 25, 1861, authorizing a pardon, being offered for $125. An internet search on November 6, 2021, showed that catalog no. 818 (issued in 1990) was then listed on Amazon for 20.00.
- 0002 Lot 2. Autos & Autos. 26 items. The firm was owned and operated by the late B.C. West, Jr., Manuscript Society treasurer, trustee and noted dealer and collector. His name is well known for the 1976-1977 replevin case, The State of North Carolina vs. Dr. B.C. West, Jr., that he fought after the state seized documents from him. Less well known, perhaps, is the key role he played with the F.B.I. in apprehending a thief who stole an estimated $15,000,000 of manuscripts and artifacts from the Thomas Edison National Historic Site. West received the Conservation Service Award for his work on the case. Postmark dates for the catalogs range from 1975 to 1991

Lot Title

- 0003 Lot 3. Robert F. Batchelder. 44 items. The cover page has Autographs: Letters, Documents, Manuscripts. Catalogs 4-24, 26-37, 40-43, 46, 52, 54, 120-122. And 124. 1972-mid 1980s. Batchelder (1927-2007) operated out of Ambler, Pennsylvania, just north of Philadelphia. A graduate of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, he is listed in the 1976 membership directory of The Manuscript Society and was vice president 1998-2001. His catalogs can be found on several internet sites, most going for $5.00 and up. An internet search on September 2, 2021, found that one dealer was offering catalogs 9, 13 and 14 for $75.00.
- 0004 Lot 4. Cohasco, Inc. 12 items. Catalogs 23-27, 32, 51-52, 54, 58-59 and 61. 1982-2012. Founded in 1946, the company is run by Bob Snyder, a member of the Board of Trustees of The Manuscript Society. It is located in Yonkers, N.Y.

| 0005 | Lot 5. The Collector: A Magazine for Autograph and Historical Collectors. 334 items total, with 206 items bound into 6 volumes; 1887-1888 (one bound volume), 1946-1977 (five bound volumes), 100 loose issues (1968-1997) and 28 omnibus supplements (1962-1979). The earliest bound volume is a complete set of The Collector from September 15, 1887 to August 1888, edited by Walter R. Benjamin (1854-1943), whose New York company, Walter R. Benjamin Autographs, Inc., became renowned throughout the world of manuscripts collectors. He inscribes this first volume: "To Peter Gilsey With compliments of the Editor Walter Romeyn Benjamin Dec 7/88." Gilsey may very well be the prominent real estate developer and collector of a wide variety of cultural heritage materials, who died on November 10, 1901. After his death, his collection was sold at auction. This volume came into the possession of the late David H. Coblenz, past president of The Manuscript Society. | 0008 | Lot 8. Thomas M. Fassett, Inc. 5 items. Catalogs 8-12; 1970s. Catalog's business address first from Rochester, N.Y. then Chantilly, Virginia. "Autographs, letters, documents, manuscripts" appears on the covers. Several of the catalogs include American Revolution items. The 1976 Manuscript Society membership directory includes a Rev. T. M. Fassett and the 2019 directory has a Thomas White Wolf Fassett from Hector, N.Y., who collects materials associated with Native Americans and also women. Unclear if they are the same.  |
| 0006 | Lot 6. Herman M. Darvick Autographs. 13 items. Catalogs 2-3, 17, 21, 31, 33-39, and 44. Circa 1976-1983. On the covers, the business identifies as a charter member of the Universal Autograph Collectors Club and a member of The Manuscript Society. The business was first located in Brooklyn and then relocated to Rockville Center, N.Y. Catalogs include a wide range of materials from political to sports.   | 0009 | Lot 9. J. Fricelli Associates. 7 items. Catalogs 3, 7, 11, 13-14, 17-18; 1970s. Business address listed in catalogs is Brooklyn. On the covers the business identifies as a member of The Manuscript Society and the Universal Autograph Collectors Club. In addition to manuscripts, several of the catalogs offer a good number of First Day Covers. For example, catalog 3 includes "Cacheted FDC of the United Nations stamp picturing the Chagall window." Boldly signed by Marc Chagall and listed for $45.  |
| 0007 | Lot 7. Emily Driscoll Catalogs. 18 items. Catalogs 15, 17-23, 26-28 and Supplementary Lists 2-4 and 7-10. December 1955-October 1970. Brooklyn born, Driscoll (1898-1992) operated her first shop in 1946, working from 115 East 40th Street and later 175 Fifth Avenue in New York. She was one of the few women of her era who operated her own business as a dealer. She worked with private collectors as well as institutions. An internet search on November 28, 2021 showed that copies of her catalogs were available for $10.00. Later in life, she resided in Shepherdstown, West Virginia.  | 0010 | Lot 10. Goodspeed's. Much has been written about this company, founded in 1898 in the basement of the Joshua Quincy House on Park Street in Boston by Charles E. Goodspeed (1867-1950). It's first catalog was issued in 1899 and the company quickly secured a place of prominence in the world of bookselling. It lived on under the management of a son, George (1903-1995), until 1995 when it closed. The company published catalogs, occasional lists, The Flying Quill, and The Month at Goodspeed's. An internet search conducted on September 7, 2021 showed that individual catalogs and lists can be found online for anywhere from $5.00 to $40 or more. The majority of the Goodspeed's items were once the property of the late David H. Coblenz, past president of The Manuscript Society and a devoted collector. His name is handwritten in many of the pieces. His underlining and notations, all in red pencil, show his keen interest in many items |
|             |  |             | Catalogs. 22 items. Nos. 369, 399, 461, 496, 510, 5   |

Lot Title

0011 Lot 11. Charles Hamilton. 164 items. Auction catalogs 1-166, from May 16, 1963 to November 29, 1984 (missing nos. 69 and 158). Most include separate list of prices realized. The first auction was held at the Gotham Hotel, located on Fifth Avenue at 55th Street. Auction 166 was held at the Omni Park Central, Seventh Avenue at 56th Street.

Charles Hamilton Autographs. Catalogs. 43 items. In Catalog 25 is this information: "To avoid confusion in identifying our catalogs, we have decided to designate them all by number. Since we have issued ten large catalogs (1 to 10, inclusive), and fourteen Gray Octavos (A to O, inclusive, omitting the letter I), this catalog becomes Number 25. The next will be Number 26." This group includes 1, 3, 4, 6-10, A, D, E, F, H, J, K, L, M, N, O, 25-46, 48, 49. Unfortunately, the catalogs are not dated. Internal evidence suggests they are from the late 1950s to 1965.

Charles Hamilton Galleries. 1 item. Catalog 1. Postmark of Nov. 5, 1984. Letter

0012 Lot 12. Stan. V. Henkels. 6 items.

Catalogue 1083; 87 pages. Valuable Autograph Letters and Historical Documents Being the Balance of the Chas. I. Turner Collection and The McKean, Mifflin and Miles Papers, &c. To be sold on April 15, 1913, at Samuel T. Freeman & Co., Philadelphia.

Catalogue 1

Lot Title

0014 Lot 14. The Jenkins Company. 3 items. Based in Austin, Texas, the late John H. Jenkins built his business with much bravado and no small amount of knowledge about rare materials. These three catalogs, numbers 25, 48 and 110 provide glimpses of what his company offered. The first two are not dated but item 110 is from 1977 and is titled Early American Imprints: A Collection of Works Printed in America between 1669 and 1800. Several later catalogs may be found for sale online but earlier ones are harder to locate.

0015 Lot 15. H. P. Kraus. 1 item. Catalogue 157. 15th " 19th Century Documents & Autographs relating to England, Scotland and Ireland, from the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps. In two parts: Part I. History, Part II. Heraldry. Includes name index. No date. 86 pages.

0016 Lot 16. Robert A. LeGresley. 6 items. Catalogs 5, 6, 7, 25, 27, 28. 1978-?. LeGresley issued his first catalogs from Topeka, Kansas but catalog 25 shows him in Henderson, Kentucky. As noted in the catalogs, his areas of interest were autographs, books and original comic art. He identified as a member of The Manuscript Society and UACC. Catalog 5, from 1978, includes several animation drawings of Mickey Mouse by Iwerks, who was with Walt Disney from the early days.

0018 Lot 18. Lion Heart Autographs. 21 items. Catalogs 1-16, 39-40, 42-44; 1979-circa 1986 and early 2000s. The company has been in New York City, albeit different locations, since its beginning. David H. Lowenherz, president of the company, is a member of many book and manuscripts organizations. From the company's website: "The 2018 feature film starring Melissa McCarthy, entitled "Can You Ever Forgive Me" is based on the forging career of Lee Israel who the FBI captured with David's assistance and participation in a sting operation. Early catalogs were modest in size and appearance but the content revealed many choice items. More modern catalogs are larger in dimension and are lavishly illustrated, while still containing wonderful items."

Lot Title

- 0019 Lot 19. Lone Star Autographs. 1 item, undated. Unnumbered and undated catalog. Entire catalog devoted to items from the estate of Jean Harlow and includes 16 images of photos being offered. The entire group 76 items in all, was being offered for $22,500. Lone Star operated out of Kaufman, Texas.
- 0020 Lot 20. James Lowe. 24 items. Catalogs 4, 6, 17-28, 30-36; spring 1971 catalog; and two catalog supplements. 1970s-1980s. Operating out of New York, Lowe is listed in the 1976 Manuscript Society membership directory and in his catalog he notes that he is a member. There is a James Lowe, LTD autographs internet site. One internet site listed his spring 1971 catalog supplement and catalogs 3 and 18 for $75.
- 0021 Lot 21. Phillips (New York). 8 items. Auction catalogs, 1978-1981. Catalogs sometimes include price estimates and/or separate list of prices realized. The auction catalog for June 25, 1980 includes over fifty items associated with Andrew Jackson.
- 0022 Lot 22. Profiles in History. 3 items. Catalogs 46, 48, and historical auction catalog 75, from June 11, 2015; 46 and 48 undated. Numbers 46 and 48 sold for $25 when first distributed; 48 sold for $35. Numerous copies of this company's catalogs were available online during an internet search conducted on November 28, 2021, ranging in price from $5 to $50.
- 0023 Lot 23. Rains Galleries. 1 item. "First Editions, Autograph Letters and Manuscripts of Outstanding Importance including a Remarkable Collection of Letters & Manuscripts by Walt Whitman together with his Will, dated May 15, 1873." - Lists. 13 items. Numbers 1-7, 9-12, 14-15; 1985-1987. Typed sheets of 8.5" x 11" paper, folded in half as mailers sent first class. Catalogs. 6 items. Numbers 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 8. 1980s. Titled "Autograph Letters, Manuscripts, Documents." More polished publication than the lists, produced by a print shop.

Lot Title

- 0025 Lot 25. The Rendells, Inc. and Kenneth Rendell Gallery
- Lists. 15 items. Nos. 1, 3-10, 12-13, 15-18. Undated, likely 1970s. Consist of 8.5" x 14" sheets of paper stapled at upper left and folded in half.
- Catalogs (numbered). 160 items. Nos. 1, 3, 4-10, 12, 14, 16-130, 132-156, 158-164, 169 and 197. Catalog 1 is from 1959 (according to his website) and catalog 197 from 1991 (from copyright designation in the catalog). Early catalogs are 8.5" x 11" paper sheets stapled at upper left.
- In 1981 two catalogs were issued, without catalog numbers, as two volumes with the same title, namely, "The American Frontier: From the Atlantic to the Pacific." These can be found listed on Amazon, eBay and other sites for anywhere from $10 to $40.
- In 1982 three catalogs were issued, without catalog numbers, in three volumes with the same title, namely, "The History of Mankind."
- Kenneth W. Rendell Gallery. 10 items. Nos. 300-305, 307-310. Catalogs are not dated. An internet search on August
- 0026 Lot 26. Paul C. Richards Catalogs. 170 items. Operating out of Brookline, Massachusetts, Richards (1938-1993) was widely known for his merchandise. In the spring 1993 issue of The Manuscript Society News, Mary Benjamin commented on his passing: "Paul Richards' death is a true loss to those who loved history. He handled autographs in all fields, researched them thoroughly and priced them fairly. His catalogues were impressive in the variety of their contents." Richards published 281 catalogs. This lot includes his first catalog; the last one in the lot is 203, so many are missing. P.C. Richards is listed in the 1976 Manuscript Society membership directory.
- 0027 Lot 27. Lester Roberts. 3 items. Catalogs 28, 31, 37. Undated and no internal evidence to suggest dates. Possibly 1970s. Antiquarian book dealer who operated out of San Rafael, California. Member of ABAA. Catalog 33 in name of Mrs. Roberts, perhaps after Mr. Roberts died. Catalog 31 includes a TLS by Graham Greene about his first book, published while an undergraduate, listed for $10. {Note: This description was altered on 2-28-22 @ 12:19pm ET}

- | Lot  | Title   | Lot  | Title  |
|------|---|------|--|
| 0028 | Lot 28. Joseph Rubinfine. 33 items. Lists 31-36, 45, 48, 50-53, 55, 56, 58-60, 62-65, 67, 69, 70-74, 76, 79-81, 84, 174, 178, 181, 183, 184; circa 1970-2018. Rubinfine (1938-2019) spent his early life on a farm in New Jersey and itâ€™s from NJ that his first catalogs were issued. It was not until 1987 that he moved to Florida (the last five catalogs in this lot were issued there). He became very well known for his expertise with Americana, something that the entries in his catalogs reflect. Less obvious to many is that he was a long-distance runner for many years and competed in many marathons, including four Boston Marathons. He was named a Fellow of The Manuscript Society.  | 0031 | Lot 31. R.M. Smythe &amp; Co., Inc. 1 item. Catalogue No. 1, n.d. An ALS by Charles Lindbergh, dated February 24, 1936 and written from Wales where the Lindberghs sought seclusion, is addressed to the BBC declining an invitation to speak on BBC. It was offered for $1,350.   |
| 0029 | Lot 29. Seaport Autographs. 49 items. Catalogs 1, 5-22, 24-27, 29-35, 102, 105-117; and 120-124; 1976-1987, 2006-2011. The first catalog is modestly titled â€œAutographs Spring-1976â€• and was issued by â€œN. F. Boasâ€• from Wilton, Connecticut; the title changed with later catalogs, as did the location from Mystic to Stonington. Boas is none other than Dr. Norman F. Boas (1923-2016), Fellow of The Manuscript Society. With a medical degree from Harvard attained by the time he was 22, Boas was in public health service, including a stint with NIH, taught at Yale, and later was in private practice. After retiring from medicine, he was heavily involved with historical projects in his area and, of course, acquiring and selling manuscripts. His research and publishing interests included Abraham Lincoln, First Lady Jane Pierce, and the noted anthropologist Franz Boas, his grandfather. | 0032 | Lot 32. A Creative Century: Collections at the University of Texas. Austin: Humanities Research Center, 1970. Second printing. 71 pgs. Paperback. Catalog of an exhibit held in November 1964 at the Academic Center and Undergraduate Library. Comprises selections from the universityâ€™s twentieth century literary manuscript collections. Includes 100 selections, especially useful for autograph examples.  |
| 0030 | Lot 30. James Smalldon. Americana. 6 items. Catalogs 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 17; 1980-1982. Smalldon (1925-2011) was born in Detroit, Mich. After serving in the Navy during WW II he resided in California where he received a masterâ€™s degree in history from the USC. He stayed in the state and made his name in the world of autographs, manuscripts and rare books for, among other things, his expertise in California Americana. The mailing address for the catalogs is Sutter Creek, Ca. Catalog 9, from 1980, includes many Civil War items including a muster roll for Co. C, 16th Louisiana, dated 1862. Several Caddo Native Americans, formerly from Louisiana, Arkansas and eastern Texas, are listed. The document listed for $20.  | 0033 | Lot 33. Golden Cockerel Private Press. 1965-1966. British Handmade Books. Great Britain: Golden Cockerel Press, 1955. 48 pgs. Paperback.  |
|      |   | 0034 | Lot 34. William Blades. The Enemies of Books. London: Elliot Stock, 1902. Hardback. The author was a 19th-century bibliophile and book collector. First published in 1880, the book was republished in other editions in 1881, 1888, 1896 and 1902 in a popular edition. He worked with many notable collectors as well as printers, including William Claxton. Shelf wear, and boards are heavily worn at corners. |
|      |   | 0035 | Lot 35. Charles Hamilton. The Book of Autographs. New York: Simon and Schuster, 1978. Hardback, with dustjacket.  |
